FROM HIGH SCHOOL TO HIRED: STUDENTS CONNECT WITH EMPLOYERS

On Friday, January 24th, Bellbrook High School held its first-ever invitation-only Career Fair, giving students a special opportunity to explore different career paths after graduation. Whether they were considering college, trade programs, or jumping straight into the workforce, students connected with professionals and learned about exciting job opportunities. The event took place in the Auxiliary Gym during second period and featured local businesses, trade programs, and healthcare representatives. These industry professionals shared valuable insights, helping students discover careers they might not have considered before.

Attendees had the chance to:

- ✓ Meet employers offering well-paying jobs right after high school.
- ✓ Ask professionals about career options, job expectations, and training programs.
- ✓ Learn about apprenticeships and trade opportunities in different fields.

The Career Fair was kept small on purpose, allowing students to have real conversations with employers. With only 30 spots available, students were selected based on interest surveys. This helped make sure the event was meaningful for both students and employers.

The Career Fair was a huge success, and Bellbrook High School hopes to offer more career-focused events in the future. Special thanks to Mr. Chad Mason from the Greene Co ESC for helping to organize this event. If you missed out this time, be on the lookout for more opportunities to explore your future!

We are proud to share that seniors Oliver Alban and Connor Payne have been named Finalists in the 2025 National Merit Scholarship Program! This is an incredible achievement, and they will now compete for 6,870 scholarships worth over $31 million.

The National Merit Scholarship Program is highly competitive, with more than 1.5 million juniors from 22,000 high schools across the country entering through the PSAT/NMSQT exam. Being named Finalists means Oliver and Connor are among the top 1% of high school seniors nationwide, a true testament to their hard work and academic excellence.

Bellbrook High's AFJROTC: A Model of Mentorship, Discipline, and Service

The Bellbrook High School Air Force Junior ROTC (AFJROTC) program recently underwent a formal unit assessment, conducted by Regional Director Erik Pettyjohn. During his visit, he had the opportunity to evaluate various aspects of the program, which left a lasting impression.

Pettyjohn highlighted several areas of excellence within the unit. He was particularly impressed with the extensive community service activities carried out by the cadets. The program's involvement in the community demonstrates the strong sense of responsibility and leadership that it fosters in its students.

Another area where the Bellbrook AFJROTC unit shines is in its drill abilities, which were executed with precision and discipline. Pettyjohn also noted the professionalism of the Unit Mission Brief, where the cadets demonstrated a clear understanding of the program's objectives and values. The fitness program was another point of praise, reflecting the cadets' commitment to physical well-being and teamwork.

Lieutenant Colonel Christine Gangaware and Senior Master Sergeant Martin Venegas were praised for their exceptional mentorship and guidance, shaping the future leaders of tomorrow. "Their dedication to the education and leadership development of their cadets is evident in every aspect of the program."

These impressive achievements reflect the high standards and exceptional leadership that define the Bellbrook High School Air Force Junior ROTC program. Through the guidance of Lieutenant Colonel Gangaware and Senior Master Sergeant Venegas, the cadets are receiving invaluable lessons in discipline, leadership, and community service.

BELLBROOK HIGH SCHOOL CULTURE

THE BEST VERSION OF YOU LIVES ABOVE THE LINE

In life, everyone's performance rises or falls based on their behavior. Think of it like a line: above that line is disciplined behavior, and below it is default behavior.

Disciplined behavior is intentional, purposeful, and skillful. It requires effort and focus—and yes, it's often challenging. On the other hand, living below the line means operating on autopilot, being impulsive, or resisting change. It might feel easier, but it comes with consequences. When we choose discipline, we unlock our potential. Disciplined people work smarter, collaborate better, learn more effectively, communicate clearly, and bounce back from challenges with resilience. They are intentional in their actions and committed to growth.

Default behavior, however, can hold us back. It allows impulse to take over, keeps us stuck in bad habits, and traps us in the comfort zone. Default behavior may feel safe, but it limits what we can achieve. The important thing to remember is that discipline isn't something imposed on you—it's a choice you make for yourself. It's the decision to grow, improve, and hold yourself to a higher standard every day. Discipline means training your mind, body, and habits to align with your goals and values.

So, challenge yourself to do the hard work. Strive to be better today than you were yesterday and even better tomorrow. Remember, the best version of yourself lives above the line.

The team is now preparing for their next competition at Wright MUN in April.

Advanced Placement (AP) Exam Prep

As spring gets closer, our AP students are getting ready for their big exams. Here's what they've been working on:

- AP Government – Students are learning about how the U.S. government works and preparing for their exam on May 6th. Good luck to everyone taking the test!
- AP U.S. History – With their exam on May 9th, students are reviewing key events and important people in American history.
