HOMECOMING WEEK: A CELEBRATION OF PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE

Each fall, the Bellbrook High School community comes together to commemorate its rich history, embrace the present, and set its sights on the future during Homecoming Week. This year, the Golden Eagles embarked on their Homecoming festivities from October 2nd to the 7th, with students participating in a series of themed spirit days: Pajama Day, Dress Like A Boss Day, Safari Day, Disney Day, and Gold Rush Day.

The highlight of Wednesday's events was the much anticipated Powder Puff game, where senior girls squared off in a fiercely competitive showdown. This thrilling spectacle has become a cherished tradition, complete with a student section, an enthusiastic crowd, performances by our marching band, and "spirited" cheerleaders. This year, the White team emerged victorious over the Purple team by a narrow margin of 8-6. Following the game, Bellbrook High School students gathered around a roaring bonfire situated south of the stadium.

On Friday morning, Tom Bean, Carrie (Gainey) Dunham, and Gregg Sparks were officially inducted into the Bellbrook-Sugarcreek School District Hall of Fame. Their induction ceremony, attended by family members, community leaders, and the BHS class of 2024, served as a tribute to their commitment, service, and leadership within the Bellbrook-Sugarcreek School District. These distinguished individuals joined the ranks of the 61 previous inductees, recognized for their exceptional contributions to the school district and the surrounding communities.

Friday night marked the high point of the week with the Homecoming football game, where Bellbrook emerged victorious, defeating Monroe by a commanding 49-6 score. The evening also witnessed the crowning of Grace Atchison and Johnny Deszcz as the Homecoming Queen and King, a momentous honor that celebrates their embodiment of the "Spirit of Bellbrook."

The Golden Royal Court, comprising students nominated by classes and organizations as exemplary role models who embody the spirit of Bellbrook High School and our community, included Ella Kapfhammer and Rithik Mall (2027); Lily Deweese and Brady Read (2026); Ava Praeter and Grant Driskell (2025); and seniors: Addy Alexander, Luke Benetis, Seth Gedeon, Grace Kelly, Jordan Meadows, Zander Pittman, Bella Vaughn, and Lincoln Warren. Johnny and Grace received Golden Eagle pins as a symbol of their representation of the "Spirit of Bellbrook."

On Saturday night, the gymnasium was abuzz with excitement as over 730 students celebrated this year's "Tangled" Homecoming. We extend our heartfelt appreciation to the BHS Student Government and the entire student body and staff who dedicated themselves to making this Homecoming Week an unforgettable experience.

THE BLUEPRINT OF OUR SUCCESS: UNDERSTANDING THE HEART OF OUR SCHOOL'S CULTURE

Let's talk about something really important: our school's culture. It's one of the things that makes our school special. But it's not something that just happens on its own; it takes effort from all of us. Culture isn't just a fancy document hanging on the wall, although we do have plenty of those, it's about what we believe, how we act, and how our actions affect others. It's the foundation of our school community. I have linked our district culture playbook on the left. In it you will find our core beliefs and behaviors.

Our core beliefs are our guiding principles for how we should treat each other, our fellow students, and our community. And why does all of this matter? Because our culture shapes our behavior, and that affects how well we can accomplish our goals.

Success at BHS isn't just about getting good grades, although it is important; it's also about how well we work together, adapt to changes, and how well we overcome challenges. Our culture brings us together around common beliefs and behaviors and this ultimately determines how well we can prepare ourselves for the future.

Golden Eagles are expected to:
Do the Right Thing
Soar Together
Pursue Excellence

Our culture is the driving force behind everything we do. It's what leads to the results we want to achieve. Culture is always a work in progress and we have work to do. Let's all contribute to making our school's culture even better!

STUDENTS EMBRACE THE SPOOKY SEASON THROUGH THEIR ARTWORK

As autumn sets in, students have been busy crafting a wide range of art pieces that reflect the spookiness of the season. From watercolor haunted houses to masks, skeletons, and more, these creative minds have embraced the eerie charm of the season. In this article, we'll delve into their various art projects, including Special FX makeup, phobia-themed photoshoots, and negative space skeletons, all created in the spirit of the season.

Mrs. Newsome: Art 1- Tis the spooky season! Students are learning the basics of watercolor painting by creating watercolor haunted houses!

Art 3- Students were assigned a general topic of "masks" and were given 5 weeks to create anything they want with whatever materials they want. They are making quite a variety of things from actual movable 3D masks to paintings to rotating sculptures.

Art 4- Continuing the spooky season celebrations, Art 4 is finishing up painting on pumpkins and will be starting to draw realistic animal skeletons.

Career Arts- Career Arts is also getting into the spooky season by learning about careers as Special FX artists. They are using various materials and prosthetics to create spooky monster and creature makeup on mannequins and each other!

Digital Media- Students will be coordinating and creating a "phobia" themed photoshoot. They will choose a phobia and orchestrate a photographic composition, lighting, and editing to make it as scary as possible!

Mrs. Parsons: Art 1- Art 1 is working on creating Negative Space Skeletons. Students learned about the grid drawing method to accurately draw images and enlarge drawings. They began by selecting an image of a skeleton, drew their images utilizing the grid method and then transferred their drawings to a piece of painting paper. They selected a warm or cool color scheme to paint their skeletons, and used the opposite color scheme to add oil pastel as a final step, making sure to blend at least two colors in each section.

Art 2- Art 2 learned how to create a work of art on scratchboard. They practiced creating at least three different values and three different marks- hatching, cross hatching and stippling. They then photographed a skull prop, transferred the image to scratchboard and used this negative marking making process to create their images while thinking about "drawing the light" and direction of line.

Cultural Arts- Cultural Arts studied Dia de los Muertos and designed their own sugar skulls to celebrate the season. They first built their skulls by cutting, gluing and taping 28 individual template pieces together to create a 3D armature. They then learned about plaster and covered their cardboard skulls with plaster to add structure and strength. Lastly they added color with acrylic painting-thinking about variety and detail.

Drawing & Painting- Students in Drawing and Painting learned about negative and positive space and creating interesting compositions. They chose a subject matter of either scissors or flowers and made their own arrangements. They then created a drawing- focusing only on the negative space and selected either watercolor or acrylic paint to add color to their work.

MATH! IT'S ALL FUN AND GAMES UNTIL SOMEONE DIVIDES BY ZERO!

In BHS math classes, students engage in hands-on learning experiences to deepen their understanding of mathematical concepts. How many rubber bands do you need to attach to a Barbie doll so that when you drop her from the stairs, she won't crack her head on the floor? Students in statistics and quantitative reasoning are investigating this topic by creating regression models.

While students are required to take four credits of math for graduation, we encourage everyone to take math for all four years of high school. Some type of math course is required for every major in college; the ASVAB has questions to test your math skills; all vocational programs require mathematical thinking.

The math department would like to remind everyone that help is available every morning at 7:30am in room 207 and Monday-Thursday after school until 3:45pm in room 203. Peer tutoring is also available during the school day; just talk to your teacher to arrange a time!

BHS EXAM POLICIES

Exams will be administered at the conclusion of each semester. Exams will be worth 20% of the grade for the semester. A schedule will be provided for students prior to the administering of the tests. Each semester, all students will be awarded one exam exemption that they may use in a single class where they have earned an "A" or "A+" in each quarter of the semester. No "A-" in any quarter in a semester. Students may not exempt the same exam in both semesters. Students may not use an exam exemption in an AP class 1st semester. Students are expected to take their exams on the day and during the period that the exam is scheduled. Exam exemptions apply to BHS courses only, not College Credit Plus courses.

Students will lose the privilege of their exam exemption under the following conditions:

1. A student receives office discipline of: 3+ detentions, in-school studies, or out-of-school suspension during the semester.
2. A student has reached the threshold of Excessively Absent or Habitually Truant by state definitions.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT NOTES

FROM FALL FOLIAGE TO WINTER WONDERLAND: BHS MUSIC DEPARTMENT'S CONCERTS BRING THE SEASONS TO LIFE!

The Music Department continues to work hard in the classroom and on the field of competition to prepare for their upcoming performances. The choral program presented its fall concert on Wednesday, October 11, featuring festive fall music from all the choirs, grades 7-12. The Wind Ensemble and Symphony Band performed their annual Halloween Spooktacular on Wednesday, October 18. The high school bands were joined by the 7th and 8th grade bands in this once-a-year event. The Spooktacular was truly spectacular. Please be sure to attend the band's holiday concert on Tuesday, December 12 at 7pm in the BHS auditorium!

The Wind Ensemble and Symphony Band will be visited by nationally recognized wind band conductor, Dr. Alfred Watkins, on Tuesday, October 24 for a clinic. We are excited to be welcoming him to Bellbrook!

The Marching Eagles have continued to work hard this fall at completing and perfecting their 2023 competition show, Press Play, featuring music from The Simpsons, WandaVision, Squid Games, and Cheers, among other tunes. The band traveled to Cedar Point in September, where they performed in a parade and enjoyed a day in the park. They also participated in the Bands of America Regional in Obetz, Ohio, where they performed their best show of the fall so far. The band has also enjoyed supporting the football team this fall, and is looking forward to future competitions at Centerville and Mid-States Championships, where they will defend their 2022 Class AAA Championship title. Please come out to support the band at their home invitational on Saturday, October 21. The season will conclude with a trip to Indianapolis for the Bands of America Grand National Championships. Good luck to the Marching Eagles!
