What I Wish They Knew When I Was Young, Living with Autism, ADHD, Sensory Processing Dysfunction, & Learning Disorder:

MY WORLD, YOUR WORLD, OUR WORLD

Kim is an autistic occupational therapist, international speaker, consultant, author, and self-advocate. Kim broke through barriers as she defied a system that said, “your autism is severe; you need to live in a nursing home.” Her difficult experiences forged a passion for educating others on autism and related conditions. Her hope is to provide insight by sharing her personal and professional experiences. William, a best-selling author, reasonable accommodation, and Kim’s husband, presents alongside her. William not only helps Kim during the presentation but also provides valuable insights about life with autism.

Childcare will be provided by ESC Therapists.
